WOMEN IN PRISON SPEAK OUT

Quotes from women in prison:

"to sleep four feet apart from a man that I don't know anything about brings up lots of fears and anxiety, depression… Brings up lots of emotional stress for me. Because of all my domestic violence survival and [I] know the strength of a man will always be more than a woman."

"What about my mental state? Personally I'm terrified of having to live with a man… I'm a petite woman how will I fight off a man or help someone if I see them being assaulted?"

"Once a woman makes it clear that she is not interested in befriending or hanging out with these men, they become petty… It is a frightening experience because these men are not petite, effeminate males, but large, strapping, aggressive, criminal-minded men, violent inmates."

"[There is] a molester and serial rapist living across from me, he's walking around with a hard on."

"A federal woman prisoner in the United States cannot take a shower in peace."

"Who in their right mind has disregarded a woman's innate right to bodily privacy, even in prison?"

We can't understand this either. We think this is wrong and puts women in prison at risk.
